Have You Heard?

by Dorothy McCain Elsenius

Kensington residents are urged to call at the Kensington Fire Station, 215 The Arlington, for the correct Community Emergency Plan tabloid. It seems that they were sent the Alameda County edition instead of the Contra Costa County one—all the emergency phone numbers are wrong.

poor Jeanne McFadden suffered a complete loss of her voice in the day of the Adult School Fashion Show, which she had promised to commentate for. However, luckily she regained it.

Modern Math

A New Math parent education course, cosponsored by Marin School PTA and Albany Adult School, will start April 3. The Monday evening sessions have been designed to inform parents of the philosophy, methods and materials associated with the "new math" now taught at the elementary school level.

Mr. Jack McFarland, former teacher and current counselor at Marin School, will preside at all sessions. A partial list of topics to be presented include: The vocabulary of new math, numerical systems, geometric and algebraic concepts studied in elementary school, number patterns and modular arithmetic. The Monday evening meetings will convene in the Marin School cafeteria from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

However, Howell noted that, because of a suit that has been filed against the City by the Albany Bay Committee in an attempt to stop the City's landfill operation, a "cloud has been cast over the plans," which may make possible developers hold off.

Rubin's Fill Suit Attacked

Councilman Lewis Howell lashed out, at Monday night's meeting, at the "same old group, bringing up the same old issues," in regards to last week's meeting concerning the fate of Albany's waterfront plans.

"Unfair statements were made at that meeting—unfair both to the City and to the Council," Howell stated, emphasizing that, in his opinion, the issue is being used as a way to "cast aspersions against this Council just before election."

"Other areas are utilizing these waterfront areas (i.e. Berkeley and Emeryville), and I envy them. Why should Albany's ability to do the same be questioned?" Howell continued, "we have held many, many public meetings to try to provide a suitable recreation plan for the people to reach and enjoy the Bay waterfront, and the Council unanimously agreed to go ahead with our Albany Isles plan. I see no reason to stop it now. We have much more to offer than other areas because we already have Golden Gate Fields and the golf course."

However, Howell noted that, because of a suit that has been filed against the City by the Albany Bay Committee in an attempt to stop the City's landfill operation, a "cloud has been cast over the plans," which may make possible developers hold off.

Short Meeting

In what could be record time, the Albany City Council dispensed with its short agenda in just 17 minutes on Monday night.

A communication from the Alameda County Veterans' Day Commission, requesting the City's financial participation in the 1972 Veterans' Day observance and parade, was referred to a budget hearing; and a public hearing date of April 10 was set to act upon an application for an amusement and entertainment permit for Willie N. Sykes at 953 San Pablo Ave., and a use permit for Robert Dupont to operate a restaurant at 917 San Pablo Ave.

Payment of claims in the amount of $61,018.27 was approved, and the City Attorney was instructed to prepare a resolution of commendation for retiring Albany City Fireman, John Hritz.

Under the "good of the city," Councilman Joe Carlevaro reminded the Council and the audience of the public hearing on the General Plan for Albany Parks and Recreation, which will be held in the Council Chambers at City Hall tonight at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

The meeting was adjourned in memory of long-time Albany resident William Thomas.

Construction Up In Albany

Construction in the City of Albany is up considerably over last year's, according to a report by City Administrative Officer, James Turner.

The first two months of 1972 saw $280,930 worth of construction started, while in the same period in 1971 there was only $29,278 underway.

Among new construction currently going on in the City is a $41,000 four-unit apartment building at 1110 Stannage Ave., which was started last month.

Thirty-one permits for residential construction have been issued, at a total value of $28,110.

Remember Cecil B. De Mille's
delicately acclaimed film classic,
"The King of Kings?" Well, it will be televised on Easter Sunday, on Channel 44, at 7 p.m., and will be shown without commercial interruption.

Considered to be a masterpiece,
the film, based on the life of Christ, was first released in 1927.
It features music, subtitles and other effects, but no spoken dialogue.

And speaking of television, Albany's Mary Culley will be making her TV debut Sunday night,
April 2, at 8 p.m. on Channel 20.
Mary, who is an old pro at public appearances, is a little apprehensive about her first TV appearance. However, she knows her subject well—"Dog Training

last week, couldn't believe their

Albany "party people" had a great weekend—Friday night was the March of Dimes wine tasting and house tour at the Meek Estate in Hayward (with "special" entertainment), then Saturday night was Elm Branch's "Hobo Holidaze" at the Albany Veterans Memorial Building, another
"must" for the In Crowd. We hear that the costumes were fabulous, and everyone had nothing but fun, with the proceeds going to the Children's Hospital Medical Center.

Judge Jacqueline Taber, special guest at the recent joint meeting of the Alberito and Soroptimist clubs, revealed during the self-introduction period that she was formerly an Albany playground
director at Memorial Park.

Friends and acquaintances of Bill Thomas, former Albany resident, will be sorry to hear of his sudden and unexpected death,
last Saturday. Bill, a long-time resident of our city was one of its most active people—past president of the Albany Lions Club, past Lions District Governor, and a past member of the Albany Civil Service Commission, were just a few of his involvements.

At a meeting of the Board of Education earlier this month, action was taken accepting the resignation of Dick Hillman, who has taught drama, public speaking and English at Albany High for the past 23 years.

Hillman, who's retirement will be effective this June, must have made quite an impression on the students at Albany High, as they presented a petition to him—not to quit. According to Dick: "You can fool some of the people some of the time, but not the children
very often."

The retiring instructor, who's second love is music, will probably devote his time to writing a musical comedy. He already has had several musical selections
published.

Mrs. Harold W. Olson and her daughter, Mrs. Robert B. Walk-

fair was held in the Windsor

Fifty-two guests toasted Miss Vila with champagne before luncheon was served. The head table decorations, and centerpieces of flowers on the round tables, held crystalline parasols shading two love birds. A silver champagne cup, tied with net and satin, held the traditional almonds. An accordionist enter-

Miss Vila, a graduate of the Anna Head School, is a French major, now doing post graduate work at the University of California. She plans on teaching.
Her husband-to-be, Lee Felice, is studying law at the University of San Francisco.

Linda is the daughter of Mr.

They plan a July wedding.

New Recycling Center Opens

Ecology Action, the group that recently opened a recycling center at University Ave. and Sacramento, in Berkeley, is now aiding a new group to sponsor another recycling center at Grove and Dwight Way.

The new center, sponsored by the Ananda Marga Yoga Society,
a non-profit international meditation society, will be open Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. If the demand proves great, the center may plan to stay open later, for the convenience of those who work and may want to drop their recyclables off on their way home.
However, recyclables may be brought to the center only during open hours.

The public may bring the following materials to the center:
tin, glass, aluminum, bi-metal and banded newspapers. They must be prepared as follows:
glass should be rinsed and caps
and jar lids discarded, also aluminum neck rings removed. The tops and bottoms of cleaned tin cans should be removed and the can flattened. Bi-metal and aluminum cans should be crushed.

The new center is part of Ecology Action's plan to have several neighborhood recycling centers in the area, to be run by local groups. The smaller recycling center has the advantage of a personal, less-crowded atmosphere, and can serve as a focal point for various community activities. There will also be a community bulletin board, literature displays, and consumer information available.

The Mail Bag

Editor, the Times:

In the summer of 1970, you may have received a letter from me concerning Magazines for High Schools, a volunteer project providing a depository for used magazines, and a resource for teachers who can use them
in their classes.

The response was excellent.
Ten depots were set up in the East Bay and magazines were delivered to 35 schools. Now magazines for High Schools is enlarging operations, and needs to hear from interested teachers, magazine subscribers, and volunteers
who will help collect, read, store,
and deliver the donated periodicals.

Teachers will find we have single copies of common and unusual magazines, including some in Japanese. We would appreciate receiving their individual requests, so we can move magazines in and out of our limited storage space as quickly as possible. Some class sets are available. All, of course, are free.
This is only to schools.

Subscribers are invited to contribute almost any magazines printed, as long as they are uncut and untorn. We have more requests than we can fill for the following: car, motorcycle, and sports magazines, Ebony, and Jet. Your contribution at least reuses the magazine; magazine
paper is not yet being recycled.

Volunteers can help by reading and taking notes on specific magazines so that teachers can tell
at a glance whether that issue will be of use to them. Volunteers can also telephone to set up deliveries and to find schools that can use large quantities of past issues of certain magazines like National Geographic and Reader's Digest. Then there is always the physically active work
of picking up, storing, packing,

LIGHT THE NIGHT

Leave your porch light on.
FIGHT CRIME

and delivering magazines to the schools.

We are deeply grateful to those who have been contributing to
(and using) this volunteer project since September, 1970. We are equally grateful to your
newspaper for helping to spread
the word about Magazines for High Schools.

Yours truly,
MRS. R. P. MURPHY

P.S.: Albany High has been a
regular customer and I could use
an Albany depot—a front porch
sheltered from rain, where donors
could leave magazines without
disturbing the residents.

Girl Scouts Stage Sit-In

For the first time in many years, a woman presided at the Albany City Council meeting last week. In fact, several young women occupied council seats,
when members of the Girl Scout Cadette Troop 1094 participated in the Monday night Council meet.

The girls, working on the "Challenge of Active Citizenship," sat alongside their City Councilmen, City Clerk, City Attorney, and City Administrator, and watched and learned about their own local government in action, while exploring the roles that women can take as active citizens in government.

Those who participated, all students from Marin and Albany
High Schools, included: Sharon
Bookmyer, Judy Choate, Robyn
Hohman, Sherry Morley, Lori Patterson, Judy Sugawara, and Laurie and Wendy Wong.

Cadette Troop 1094 leaders are
Mrs. Leonard Keck and Mrs.
Glen Choate.

We are deeply grateful to those
who have been contributing to
(and using) this volunteer project since September, 1970. We
are equally grateful to your
newspaper for helping to spread
the word about Magazines for High Schools.

Yours truly,
MRS. R. P. MURPHY

P.S.: Albany High has been a
regular customer and I could use
an Albany depot—a front porch
sheltered from rain, where donors
could leave magazines without
disturbing the residents.

Easter Seal Fund Appeal

Residents in 325,000 Alameda County homes have received Easter Seals enclosed in fund appeal envelopes for the annual 1972 Alameda County Easter Seal Society campaign, that will continue through Easter Sunday, April 2.

Recent Medi-Cal cutbacks have increased the patient load more than 100 percent at the Easter Seal Rehabilitation Center which serves physically disabled adults and children throughout Alameda County.

No eligible patient will be turned away from the Rehabilitation Center. This has placed a severe financial drain on the Center, making this month's fund drive of critical importance.

The disabled in Alameda County look to Easter Seals for help in the physical, speech and occupational therapy departments. The heated therapeutic pool brings relief to arthritis sufferers.

Other programs include social service, rehabilitation medicine consultation, amputee clinic, resident summer camping, a Parkinson program and equipment loans.

Although many children are helped by Easter Seals, most patients are adults. They include patients recovering from strokes, victims of accidents, heart disease or cancer.

Leading the 1972 fund raising campaign for Alameda County is former Alameda Mayor Franz Collischonn.

CALIFORNIA HIGHWAYS

California now has 1,511 miles of its Interstate and Defense Highway system completed, to full or acceptable standards and another 257 miles improved to standards adequate for present day traffic, according to State Senator Tom Carrell, chairman of the State Senate Transportation Committee.

Ultimately, there will be 2,280 miles of interstate system in California, the second largest segment allotted to any state. Texas will have the most with 3,167 miles.

"The California Interstate System has cost $3.14 billion to build since 1956," Carrell noted.

Library Thefts

Due to recent increases in the loss of books and other library materials, officials of the Berkeley Public Library have found it necessary to instigate new and expanded security measures.

A recent inventory brought to light tremendous losses, especially of phonograph records. Eleven percent of the record collection was stolen in a 20-month period. This loss, coupled with 30,598 missing books and high percentages of stolen materials in "popular" subject areas, is having a crippling and definitely disheartening effect on the Library.

Turnstiles are being added to better guide the traffic flow of patrons, and security guards have been employed to keep watchful eyes open for book contraband. Patrons are being asked to remember to check library materials out before taking them home, and to adhere to the return procedures by getting the books promptly back to the Library, so that other patrons may enjoy them also.

Residents and patrons are being asked to check their bookshelves, to see if they may be listed among the honest and well-meaning, but nevertheless guilty on the grounds of forgetfulness.

Escape Route

For you escapists, the simple life away from the sights and sounds of the big city can be found in Cleveland National Forest.

Practically all parts of this Southern California forest, according to the National Automobile Club, are accessible by automobile. Once you reach the Laguna Recreation Area, located about 48 miles east of San Diego, you begin your day of relaxation.

Peace and quiet here soothe your nerves. Lovely trees inspire you. And large streams invite you to try fishing. As the highlight of your visit, you can see the world's largest telescope at Palomar Observatory in the forest.

BART-AC Bus Transfer Plan

A one-way free transfer from BART trains to AC Transit buses has been approved by the AC Transit Board.

Under the plan, a rider would pay his regular bus fare en route to a BART station. However, on his return trip he would receive a transfer from BART which would be good for a ride on a connecting bus service, at no additional charge. Regular BART fares would be paid in both directions.

The net effect of this transfer procedure for round-trip passengers, using both systems, would be a 50 percent fare reduction for the feeder bus ride portion of the trip.

Revenue losses, under this arrangement, would be borne equally by BART and AC Transit, according to the proposal.

The plan was part of a four-part suggestion, made last November to the two transit districts, by Joseph Bort, Alameda County Supervisor and chairman of the Metropolitan Transit Commission.

As an optimum, AC Transit has sought the same transfer privileges now accorded its own passengers. No charge is made by the bus system for riders transferring between East Bay lines or between East Bay and transbay lines. Nor has any charge been made by predecessor companies for several decades, according to AC directors.

Passengers should be able to transfer free, between AC Transit buses and BART trains, if the use of public transportation is to be maximized, in the opinion of AC Transit's Board of Directors.

BLUE CHIP STAMPS

As a candidate for re-election to the Albany City Council I wish to submit the following statements to the voters:

My name is George C. Hein and I am a self-employed vending machine distributor.

I believe I am well qualified in all phases of city government, having had the privilege of serving you as Councilman and Mayor for the past 12 years, and having served on the Finance Committee, Police, Fire, Health Commissions, and other committees during that time.

In my 12 years on the Albany City Council, I feel the City has progressed steadily and has maintained one of the lower tax rates in the area. As a taxpayer on my home and other properties in the city for 40 years, I am vitally interested in keeping taxes as low as possible, and still maintain good services and efficiency in city government.

I am proud to call Albany my home, and to have been involved in Albany's progress and improvements, and I eagerly look forward to seeing many more projects completed in the future. As your Councilman seeking re-election, I stand on my record. If re-elected I will continue to serve you to the best of my ability.

Call Seeks Re-Election

As a candidate for the Albany City Council seeking re-election, I, Hubert Call, submit the following statements to the voters:

I have been a resident of this city since 1942, when I settled in Albany after a long search in the state for a suitable location to live and go into business on San Pablo Ave., where I own and operate Call Bros. Jewelers.

I am a member and past president of the Albany Chamber of Commerce (28 years); member and past president of the Albany Lions Club (21 years); member of Albany YMCA (22 years); charter member and past president of the Albany Homeowners and Taxpayers Assn.; charter member of the Albany Moose Lodge and sponsor of a full Little League team for 16 years.

My city government experience includes six years on the Council (I am the junior member), two years as Councilman, two years as Vice-Mayor and two years as Mayor. I am a past chairman of the Albany Planning and Zoning Commission and have worked actively on many civic improvement projects, such as: the new city buildings, the city zoning ordinance, the general plan and the San Pablo, Solano and Masonic Avenues street lighting and beautification.

As the father of two children who were educated in the Albany

I, Bruce W. Barrows, candidate for the Albany City Council, was born in Herrick Memorial Hospital in 1948, and came to my parents' Gateview Avenue home when I was only three days old, remaining there until I enlisted in the United States Air Force in April, 1967.

During my residence in this City I attended Vista primary and Cornell elementary schools, and graduated from Albany High School in June, 1966. Following my discharge from the service in 1971, I returned to Albany, where I now reside with my wife, the former Miss Gladys Toalson, at 809 Jackson St.

Like myself, my parents were both educated in the Albany schools. My mother, who has been an Albany resident for 44 years, graduated from Albany High School in 1938 and my father in 1937. My father, Harry D. Barrows, was a charter member of the Albany Junior Chamber of Commerce, and a past president.

My paternal grandparents, Mrs. Kathryn Etingoff and the late Max Etingoff, were in business at Solano and San Pablo Avenues (Max's Liquors) for many, many years, and my grandmother has been a resident of Albany for almost 50 years.

I believe that the City Charter, adopted in 1927, should now be reviewed and revised. A few sections to be considered are: a full-time elected Mayor, the establishment of a term limit for all elected or appointed officials, and a city residence requirement for all elected or appointed city officials.

I feel that four things should be given priority in the City: the City Charter, the waterfront development, the schools, and Albany parks and recreation. These four things the Council should work on first. It should be noted, however, that I have not necessarily listed the priorities in their order of importance, for I believe that each should be given equal consideration.

I also believe the voters of Albany should consider putting a younger person on the Council to help bridge the so-called "Generation Gap" between the older Council members and the younger population in the City.

schools, I have supported every successful city and school bond issue to make Albany a better place to live and shop in, and working together as a team, my fellow Councilmen and I have been responsible for reducing the Albany city tax rate over the past five years. I have also worked with Senator Nick Petris on tax relief.

I hope to see more improvement throughout the city not only in the business climate, but also further beautification, but only within the taxpayers' ability to pay.

Clark Cites Background

Richard O. Clark, candidate for re-election to the Albany City Council has served as Councilman for four years, and as Mayor for four years. He is also a member of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, the Executive Committee of Association of Bay Area Governments, the Finance Committee for the City of Albany, and served as chairman of the Alameda County Mayors' Conference in 1969. He is also an elected member of the Democratic County Central Committee.

Clark's civic activities include work on the beautification of Solano Avenue, helping to protect and enhance the beauty of Albany's precious waterfront, and San Pablo lighting, as well as working on every level of government to make it more responsive.

The incumbent Councilman has worked since 1962 to clean up the environment, long before it became a popular issue, culminating with his election to BART, which is a major effort to improve the environment.

Clark has also worked to bring disadvantaged minorities into the mainstream of economic, housing and educational life. He has been opposed to the Vietnam War, since 1965, and is the only Alameda County Councilman to do so. He makes constant attempts to utilize sources of revenue, other than regressive forms of taxation.

The incumbent Councilman has worked on the beautifying of Masonic Avenue along the BART Lineal Park, and is still working for better health and park and recreation programs for the citizens of Albany.

Councilman Clark works not only to increase the physical beauty and economic viability of Albany, but also the need to be aware and concerned about social change.

Herbert Rubin's Qualifications

Herbert Rubin is a 46-year-old native Californian, who has resided in the Bay Area most of his life, and has been an Albany homeowner since 1961. He attended California public schools, the University of California at Berkeley (B.S. Engineering 1949), and earned his law degree from the University of San Francisco in 1962. He practices law in Oakland. He and his wife, Thelma, and three children, ranging in age from 12 to 20, live on Hillside Avenue.

Herb serves the City as a member, and now chairman, of its Civil Service Board. In the past he has been on the Goals and Objectives Committee for the City of Albany, and was Cheryl Kleinhammer's appointment to the Citizens' Advisory Committee for the Peralta Community College District.

Rubin urges that in a small community like our own there should be a strong relationship between the City government, through its Council, and the citizens of the community. He believes this can be achieved if several of his aims are achieved. First, there should be a limit to the number of terms a person can hold office, so local government is continually revitalized by fresh ideas and new strength.

Second, there should be permanent Citizens' Committees to assist the Council in such critical matters at Revenue and Taxation, Charter Revision (badly needed now), Parks and Recreation, Planning & Zoning, and other key areas. The Council is not a full time paid position, and the collective talent of the entire community is not only desirable but utterly necessary to help local government in these matters.

(Paid Political Adv.)

The Albany Police and Fire Civil Service Club recommends a YES vote on Charter Amendments No. 1, 2 and 3; and a NO vote for No. 4.

Reading Need Improvement?

Are you reading more now but enjoying it less? If so, you may be interested in Reading Improvement, a class to be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at Albany Adult School.

A good reader's mind is as active as his eyes; consequently, the course will stress thinking skills along with reading techniques. Instruction will increase efficiency in reading textbooks, newspapers, magazines, and non-fiction. With increased efficiency comes more reading enjoyment.

In addition, the student preparing for college will find Reading Improvement useful in sharpening his mental equipment so that he can be a more successful student.

The class will begin on April 4, at 603 Key Route Blvd. in Albany. The instructor is Mrs. Linda Moss, an experienced Adult School teacher. Mrs. Moss holds an MA in English.

Finally, there is a serious need to balance our efforts between improvement of residential and recreational areas and services, and that of our business areas. Street lighting and signs, paving, storm sewers, responsible waterfront improvement, are but a few of the problems that need new time and effort by the best our community can bring to bear.

The child who can see, but cannot properly interpret what he sees, has a problem which is usually diagnosed incorrectly as poor vision, low mentality or emotional disturbance.

This little understood and seldom recognized disability is, unfortunately, not as rare as one might think. And, the Albany Lions Club will learn more about it and how to detect it, at their next meeting, Thursday, Mar. 30, at Serb's Restaurant. Dr. Wallace May, a San Francisco optometrist who specializes in vision development and problems of visual perception, will be the guest speaker.

Because Lions Club members desire the widest possible dissemination for this vital information, they have invited their wives and all Albany elementary school teachers to be their guests

Mr. and Mrs. V. Pellegrino of 949 Stannage Ave. will hold a Coffee Hour for City Treasurer candidate, Louis Tripodi, on Thursday, Mar. 30, from 8 to 10 p.m. Anyone interested in meeting and talking to the candidate is cordially invited to attend.

CALIFORNIA GRAY WHALES

California gray whales, according to the National Automobile Club, weigh an average of around 20 tons.

at this very important program.

Others who would like to attend and hear Dr. May are invited to make reservations with the Lions' program chairman, John McDonald, at 524-3002.

Use 'Senior Power'

Elderly residents in the Albany-El Cerrito area are urged to use their "senior power" to better their conditions to get improvements in social security, elderly housing and nationalized medical care, by understanding and using the political system.

This advice was given to local senior citizens by Congressman Jerome Waldie, during a recent talk at the El Cerrito Community Center.

Although, the Congressman predicted, Congress will probably approve a 20 percent raise in social security payments, the Legislators may also, because of the growing national indebtedness, be forced to tighten the purse strings in other areas.

Little Old Winemakers

Among California's many wine producing regions, one of the most interesting and picturesque is the Napa Valley. Located 90 minutes northeast of San Francisco on Highway 29, the area is home to approximately 20 vineyards and wineries, reports the California State Automobile Association.

Wine grapes of many varieties have flourished in the valley since the 1850's, when European settlers imported them from the continent. The climate and soil of the Napa region perfectly match (and in some days surpass) the European wine regions. Many of the original buildings still stand, constructed of native stone, redwood, or brick.

Most wineries offer free guided tours which demonstrate to visitors the various states of wine-making—crushing of grapes, fermentation, storage, and bottling. These tours usually end in the tasting room where visitors may sample some of the specialties of the vintner.

Ingenook, Christian Brothers, Mondavi, and Charles Krug are only a few of the famed winemakers situated in this region.

One tour especially recommended is that of the Christian Brothers in the town of St. Helena. The grand old stone winery, built in 1888, has long been a Napa Valley landmark. Tour conducted daily from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. include a large tasting room with a high vaulted ceiling and masonry walls complemented by the mahogany paneling of the huge doors. A room upstairs displays Brother Timothy's vast collection of corkscrews from all over the

Louis R. Tripodi, candidate for office of City Treasurer, offers his resume to the voters:

Investigate the financial background of persons or corporations applying for a license to operate a vocational school. A trip to Napa Valley, whether for a brief stopover, or an extended visit to the area's many wineries and historical landmarks, is indeed a rewarding experience. Since winemaking is a year-round operation, there are always attractions for the visitor, regardless of the time of year.

Anita Tronoff, City Treasurer candidate, has the following excellent typing skill and letter composition ability assures you that all correspondence and reports issued will be in keeping with the high standards already set. My four-year experience with the three million dollar line item budget of the Albany Unified School District qualifies me.

"My education at Heald Business College for which I was awarded an Executive Secretarial Diploma, plus extra courses in cost and corporation accounting qualifies me. I realize municipality work is entirely different from any other endeavor. I not only have experience and education but at the age of 45 I have the flexibility to adapt to municipality work.

"I have been an Albany resident for 38 years, graduating from Albany High as the top-ranking scholar and citizen, and a property owner for 18 years.

"My last experience during my community involvement phase was as vice-president and member of the Board of Education. I resigned on September 20 for a reason which I will now make public. All Board members received County Counsel's letter of September 16 regarding steps and timetable plus possible liability as set forth in the Education Code when school buildings have been declared unsafe. It was after reading that letter my husband insisted that I resign. He was not willing to risk 25 years of accumulated assets to a possible lawsuit because of his wife's non-paying elective position. At that time I chose not to bring public attention to the matter of lawsuits because of the tenseness and indecisiveness prevailing, as you will recall."

Candidate For City Treasurer

Betty de Luchi offers as her qualifications for the office of Albany City Treasurer her reputation for honesty and dependability, and her 30 years of office experience.

She has held supervisory positions with the federal government and in private industry in the fields of bookkeeping, accounting, payroll, stenography and office management; she has received security clearance to handle classified material.

For 19 years Mrs. de Luchi has served with the Berkeley-Albany Office of the Alameda County District Attorney, in the capacity of administrative legal secretary; in such position she has experienced extensive personal contact with private citizens and public agencies presenting an infinite variety of problems requiring evaluation and solution.

A 13-year resident of the City of Albany, she is the mother of David and Mary Jane de Luchi, graduates of Albany High School in 1967 and 1970 respectively, and the proud grandmother of Diane Jennifer de Luchi, aged two months.

Mrs. de Luchi states, "I would be proud to serve as City Treasurer. If elected, I will endeavor to maintain the present high standard of efficiency, courtesy and service to the citizens of Albany."

LAW IN ACTION

ACCESS TO THE COURTS

A debtor would sometimes say, "I want to go through bankruptcy but I cannot afford the filing fees." However, he no longer faces this problem.

The courts have ruled that a debtor is entitled to a discharge in bankruptcy, even though he cannot pay the filing fees. In short, he has free access to the courts.

A debtor may have some funds, yet still be allowed free access. For example, Horace, his wife and daughter had a small income, mostly from part time jobs. Horace provided necessities of life for his family with aid from a public assistance allotment. With these few modest assets, Horace was allowed to file bankruptcy without payment of fees.

In another case, Eddie and Liz sought a divorce but could not pay the court costs. The court held that they were entitled to file for divorce without payment of costs, because the right to divorce is fundamental to society. The court requires only an affidavit, or other proof, that the person has no funds.

Many courts, including bankruptcy courts, allow litigants to pay fees in installments. A federal court held that an indigent person could run for public office, even though without funds to pay for the filing fees. The court said that it would have to meet other statutory qualifications for candidates, but would not be disqualified because he was poor.

Also, a poor person may not be jailed because he lacks funds to pay a fine. The court will outline a payment program, putting him on probation and requiring payments in installments.

In a juvenile court proceeding, a juvenile is entitled to services of an attorney. If cannot afford an attorney, a public defender will represent him. His parents may, however, be assessed the costs.

Phyllis Criss Offers Resume

My qualifications to serve the community as Member Board of Education, evolved from the following:

ACTION IN THE SCHOOLS AND COMMUNITY — Began in PTA 1966-67 with various chairmanships leading to Unit President in 1968-69. Other offices included, Parent Education Chairman, a Director 16th District PTA, Parent and Family Life, Character, and Spiritual Chairman, First Vice-President Albany PTA Council. It was my pleasure to serve in Albany's Resource Volunteer Program, as one of the first to assist an elementary teacher in the program, also Albany City Council's appointee to Alameda County Drug Abuse Coalition.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION — Assisted in building program, $359,000.00, including an educational unit, Director of Education, responsible for curriculum, conducts monthly teachers' training conferences, Children's Church Director.

PERSONAL DATA — My interest in the Albany School system is sincere and I have a large investment, as I have been an Albany resident, taxpayer for 11 years, two children attending the Albany schools. Wife of a supervisor for Charles Pfizer & Co.,

Lipe Appeals To The Voters

For those of you who missed my presentation at the recent Albany Candidates' Nite, sponsored by the Albany Republican Assembly, I am repeating what I said:

I believe I have the qualifications to help solve our school problems and to assist in managing the School District's over $3 million budget.

I have a Master's degree in business administration and am treasurer of a $30 million dollar savings and loan association. I have over 15 years' financial experience and have the responsibility for making millions of dollars of savings deposits. I also consult with people about loans for the purchase, refinancing or construction of homes.

I also have budgetary and management and computer oriented accounting experience. I am chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Committee, studying Albany's school problems. Here I have gained important information relating to the welfare of the children and citizens of Albany. Further, I am involved in PTA and Scouting.

WHY AM I RUNNING? I feel a deep, personal involvement in our school and community problems. This came through Riki, my wife, working with the elementary school children and when I submitted my qualifications to the Board of Education for consideration for the vacancy which occurred last September, and through my appointment to the Citizens' Advisory Committee. I believe I can help with the solutions to our problems.

WHAT DO I STAND FOR? Much improved communications with the people of Albany, basic marketable skills for students to sell to a prospective employer, staff improvement, responsiveness to students, improved school plant, the ability to turn a crisis to an advantage, and counseling for all students.

WHY ELECT ME? Because I plan to be responsive to the community, consider all aspects of our problems, be fiscally responsible, and to give the necessary time and energy to get the job done.

If you like my thoughts and ideas, elect Dean Lipe to the Board of Education on Tuesday, April 11. Thank you.

EDUCATIONAL ANALYSIS — Will support a quality educational program well rounded to meet the needs and finances of the community. Albany is known for its fine school system and its accreditation. I will strive to maintain quality education, even though this may include changes in the future, and yet remain fair to the taxpayer. I will investigate tax relief in educational programs. As a Professional Volunteer I will donate the necessary amount of time required to be an effective Board Member. Having no axes to grind will maintain the willingness to think independently, rely upon fact, hear and consider all sides of controversial questions. Educational programs vary from one district to another, one must compare and design programs which will meet the needs of the community, to build character, strengthen the child's own concepts encouraging him to learn at his own rate, at the same time understanding the fact there are certain standards to be met.

I believe it's an exciting time to serve on Albany's School Board, as there are a number of important decisions to be made concerning the schools. Re: rehabilitation of existing structures, new building, new educational ideas, financing, decisions regarding administration, a Citizens' Advisory Report to be evaluated.

I accept the challenge: to do the best I can to examine all issues fairly and present a fair judgement to all concerned.

Parking On Hills

When parking on hills, a driver should make sure the front wheels of his car are turned in the proper direction. National Automobile Club reminds you that if your car is parked downhill, turn your wheels in toward the curb and if it faces uphill, turn the wheels out from the curb.

In either case, the curb will prevent the car from rolling. Always double-check for mistakes in parking and you will ensure the safety of others and of your car, too.

BICYCLE EQUIPMENT

A bicycle, according to the National Automobile Club, must be equipped with headlight, reflector, and brakes.

Candidate Aware Of School Needs

School Board candidate, Ruth Ganong, has lived in Albany 17 years. Her four children have been educated in Albany schools. Her daughter, Anna, graduates from Albany High School this year, and her son, Jimmy, will attend the new middle school as a seventh grader. The other two children are university students. Her husband is a Professor of Physiology at the University of California in San Francisco.

Ruth graduated from Smith College, received a certificate from the Boston Architectural Center, and worked as an architectural draftsman for five years, before starting her family. She designed and supervised the construction of the Ganong family home.

Her interests are far-ranging, but her central concern has always been education. She has been involved in Albany school activities since her oldest son entered nursery school. From a participating pre-school mother she moved on to become a Cub Scout den mother, and a Camp Fire leader for 10 years. She has been a Room Mother for at least 10 years, and was a volunteer for special classes at Marin, and is currently helping keep the Math Lab open at Cornell School at noon.

She was secretary of the Citizens' Advisory Committee to the School District in 1958, and served as chairman of the Subcommittee studying Administration and Personnel Utilization in 1968. She is currently serving on the Citizens' Advisory Committee studying what to do about the school buildings that were declared unsafe. She also coordinates the Volunteer Program at Cornell School.

One of Ruth Ganong's main concerns is to maintain the quality and continuity of children's education, while the District is facing the difficult problem of meeting the State's earthquake safety requirements. She is also aware of the need for long range

Arnold Submits Qualifications

I, Bruce B. Arnold, am 32 years old and work as an architectural draftsman in Oakland, and live in Albany with my wife, Sue and our two boys, Rand, seven, and Kevin, three.

I received a B.S. in engineering from Stanford University in 1962, and spent the following four years on active duty with the U.S. Navy.

After completing my active service, I returned to school and received my Master of Architecture degree in March, 1970. During the last two years of school I worked part time as an engineering draftsman, and since receiving my degree have worked as an architectural draftsman.

As a parent I am concerned about the future of our schools. I believe that we must investigate the many different teaching methods that are in use today and evaluate their suitability for our school system.

We must also investigate how these methods are affected by the design of the buildings in which they are used, in order to determine what types of new facilities are needed to provide our children with the best possible education.

As a taxpayer I am concerned about the cost of these new facilities. I believe that we must make every effort to achieve economical designs with the greatest flexibility and efficiency possible.

As a member of the building industry, I believe that my education and experience in architecture and engineering will be valuable to me on the Board of Education in helping the citizens of Albany to achieve these goals.

educational and financial planning. She stands for the best schools for the least possible cost, and says: "We must know what each program costs, and what each is achieving, if we are to make intelligent decisions on their value."

Dorothy Brown's Education Views

I am 41 years old, married, and the parent of three children. Linda is a senior at U.C. Berkeley, Sandy is a 2nd grader at Cornell, and Donna will be entering kindergarten next fall. While my oldest daughter was in grammar school I returned to college and earned by teaching credential in 1965.

My educational philosophy centers around a deep belief that it is vitally necessary to provide all children with the basic skills of reading, writing, arithmetic, and logical reasoning. I also believe that there is a growing need to broaden the contemporary child's understanding of the complex world he lives in. I feel that education must be interesting, exciting, and relevant to children throughout the school years.

We have a law which requires children to go to school. It is, therefore, our responsibility to provide safe schools for our students. I think that it is extremely important at this time to have long range planning that takes into consideration school district characteristics such as projected student enrollment, assessed valuation per pupil, and median family income. We spend nearly half of our tax revenue on education and we must exercise prudent expenditure of these public funds.

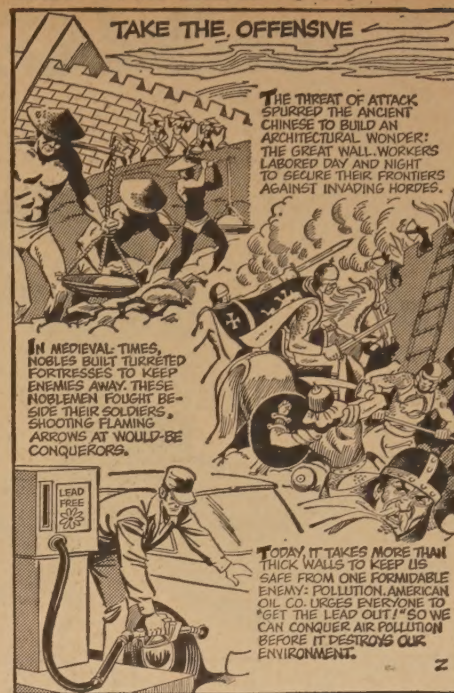

Growth of Suburbia

Suburbia is sprawling over tomorrow's horizon.

The growth of suburbia during the last few decades has been phenomenal and it doesn't look as if it's going to stop. Today's trend is to move farther and farther away from the cities, and it's mainly due to the mobility created by car-ownership, reports the National Automobile Club.

With improved highways and the building of freeways, commuting distance to work no longer

Improved Lighting
Outside safety lighting for passengers boarding or leaving at night time, will be the improvement for AC coaches.

The board of directors, in last week, approved installation of passenger lights outside of buses, above the rear doors.

The small, partially lights brighten the area the steps across the aisle. They are the same type of now used in stairwells. They provide extra vision for passengers waiting for buses at those leaving buses at the curb.

The small lights, which will not bother passing buses. They are expected to provide additional safety for passengers.

Sixty new buses now for delivery mid-year with the new lights. Installing passenger lights. Transit may install the other coaches in the fleet.
